The Richland Bombers still are the top-ranked Class 4A football team in Washington.

The Bombers (4-0 overall) received 105 points and seven first-place votes to remain atop the Class 4A Associated Press state rankings, released Wednesday. Richland defeated Southridge 26-10 last week in Mid-Columbia Conference action.

Right behind the Bombers was Camas (4-0) with 103 points. The Papermakers tallied four first-place votes.

Chiawana (4-0) moved up two spots to No. 7, getting 45 points after beating Hanford 49-14.

The Riverhawks face Kennewick at 7 p.m. Thursday at Lampson Stadium, while Richland visits Pasco on Friday night.

In the 3A poll, Kamiakin (3-1) stood pat at No. 6 after its 56-6 win over Pasco.

Prosser (3-1) slid from third to sixth in the 2A poll after losing to CWAC rival Ellensburg 35-12. The Bulldogs (3-1) moved up from sixth to fourth behind co-leaders Archbishop Murphy and Tumwater, and No. 3 River Ridge.

In the 1A rankings, SCAC East teams Royal and Connell remained 1-2. Royal again got 110 points and all 11 first-place votes. Connell, also 4-0, received 99 points.

Touchet (2-1) held steady at No. 5 in the 1B poll.

In The Seattle Times power rankings, Richland remained No. 1 in 4A, while Kamiakin held at No. 7 among 3A teams. Prosser plummeted from third to eighth in the 2A rankings.
